Fun Things to Do from Home

Welcome to HFCS Library!

Did you try any of the Fun Things to Do from home during your Spring Break? This week you will find four new sites to check out, including a couple of things for the Middle Schoolers! Book previews, read-alouds, and even a poetry contest are found within the links below.

As always if you've come across a fun website or activity you'd like to see in the Library Newsletter, email it to Mrs. Dunlop and I'll add it to the list!

Enjoy your day and God bless!

Games, Jokes, and More!

Sage Armstrong wants to recommend a website that's filled with really cool things to do! It's called Highlights Kids. Besides jokes, podcasts, and games, you can even submit your own poem, and if selected, they will turn it into a song! Right now they want poems about dancing with 75 words or less! Visit this fun site at <https://www.highlightskids.com/> and thank you Sage!

Book Previews for Teens

Hey Middle Schoolers, are you looking for a new book to try while stuck at home? This Penguin Teen site allows you to read the first chapter or two of books they publish.

Find a few you like then see if it's available on Hoopla Digital for FREE with your Prince William Library Card. No library card? Don't worry. You can get a digital one. Here's how!

"Ranger in Time" Read Aloud

Author Kate Messner invites you to watch her read "Ranger in Time" every Thursday afternoon. She'll even answer your questions! And don't worry that you already missed the first several chapters. Just click here to find recorded videos of the chapters she's read and get the details on what comes next!

Broken Crayons Activities

What will you do with all those broken crayons? As you know, Mrs. Dunlop keeps them in a box for us to use in the library...but now that we are stuck at home, you could try one of these fun ideas! Broken Crayon Ideas
